3 R.C. Men Face OPA Rent Action

The Office of Price Administration rent control office took its first action against a Peninsula property owner Monday when it field an injunction suit in U. S. District Court in San Francisco against F. G. Musso, Redwood City druggist, William T. Chapple and A. N. Paterson of Chapple Realty Co., 708 El Camino Real.

The OPA announcement said the charges grew out of complaints by tenants of apartments owned by Musso at 37, 39, 41 and 43 Clinton St. Chapple and Patterson acted as real estate agents for Musso and tenants who complained included military personnel.

OPA is asking for a preliminary and final injunction to enjoin the defendants from further charges of illegal rent in violation of rent control regulations. OPA will appear in court May 10 to move for the injunction.

The petition is a civil action. OPA charged that rents above ceiling were collected and that Musso, Chapple and Patterson failed to file correct registration statements saying what the rent was on Mar. 1, 1942. The affidavit says they boosted rents, although increases were small, most around $2.50 a month.

Chapple declared only one tenant is involved in the complaint. He said she is the wife of an army lieutenant, and that Musso never collected less than $50 monthly for her apartment.

Musso purchased the property in July, 1942, and continued the rents in effect at that time. The apartments were formerly owned by Robert O'Neil, now in the army.

Musso said he had reimbursed the tenant as soon as he learned that the Mar 1, 1942 rent ceiling, maximum which may be charged in the San Francisco Bay defense rental area, was $45. Collections had been handled through another real estate firm before Musso acquired the property.

"We have done nothing wrong," said Chapple. "Mr. Musso had no knowledge of the violation."

Chester S. Crittenden, area rent control chief, said that real estate agents are equally responsible with landlords for any violation of rent control.

"With the advent of increased production by reason of the present war acute housing shortages have developed in the San Francisco Bay defense rental area," said Crittenden, "and as a result the necessity for strict rent control is clear. Any violation of rent control violations has a widespread and serious effect upon the housing situation."

Lions Start Sale Of Show Tickets

Members of the Redwood City Lions Club today announced opening of ticket sale for the charity vaudeville show to be held May 15 at 8 p.m. at the Sequoia High School auditorium. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the organization, at Miller's Stationery or at the First National Bank.

The vaudeville show will include 15 professional acts from San Francisco, members of the committee in charge said today.

All profits from the show will be placed in the Lions Club charity fund.

The committee in charge includes Harry W. Ramsey, Arthur V. Swift, Fred Walker, George Boring and I. B. Heistand.

AIR OBSERVERS: San Carlos Seeks Additional Volunteers

SAN CARLOS—C. A. Phelan, new observation post chief, made a plea today for more volunteer observers for "one of the most important jobs in civilian defense—that of preventing trouble."

It takes 168 people to man the post during a week, Phelan pointed out. The Belmont post which serves the Belmont, San Carlos and Redwood City territory, is operated by two observers at a time, serving two-hour shifts.

Although many of the regular volunteer crew have served faithfully since Pearl Harbor, a number have dropped out lately and more volunteers for both the regular and the substitute calling list are badly needed, Phelan said.

There are only four names on the list of available observers from Redwood City, and the new chief hopes to draw more volunteers from the southern end of the district, pointing out that a car provided by the army may be picked up by post observers in downtown San Carlos and that gasoline is provided for getting to and from the point where the car is kept.

Phelan stated that ground observers not only keep a watchful eye on the skies for possible enemy planes but assist all the time in keeping track of the fliers here, many a pilot having been guided to safety from fog banks through ground observers' reports to the army.

Anyone wishing to help in this essential war contribution may contact Mr. or Mrs. Phelan by telephone at SC 962.

Van Ree Case Off Calendar

Efforts of Cornelia Van Ree, 19-year-old unwed mother, to obtain funds for the support of herself and child from the man she claims to be its father, were blocked in superior court here when Judge Maxwell McNutt ordered the case dropped from the calendar.

Defendant is her brother-in-law, Gerald E. Turner, San Mateo, now a private in the army. Opal Ellis, 36, 12th Ave., San Mateo, his aunt, testified that Turner had been transferred from a Fresno air base and that his present address is unknown.

Judge McNutt ruled that the case could not proceed without representation for the defendant.

Miss Van Ree is suing for $100,000 damages for seduction and for $60 monthly for the child's support.

Lincoln Glee Club Sings at Assembly

Lincoln School Glee Club composed of fifth and sixth grade students and directed by Miss Mitzi Benkman presented the musical portion of the assembly program this week, Principal Earl Whitaker reported today. Students also saw a picture, "Big Fish," which detailed the methods of catching sea fish.

This glee club program was a delayed one for the children, the principal said, since it was prepared for presentation to parents during Public Schools Week last month.

Employes of Class I railroads in the United States number about 1,400,000.

MANPOWER: Plant Tries Experiment

S&W Fine Foods Inc., Redwood City food plant now working on government dehydration orders, is employing a dozen part time workers in an experiment to help solve the manpower shortage, it was disclosed today by Justin Warner, plant superintendent.

The part time force includes four high school boys who work about four hours daily, and eight adult men. The men, who work five and six hour shifts in the food plant, come from a variety of jobs. Some are gasoline truck drivers and others are San Francisco salesmen living in the area.

Warner said the plant is not looking for any more part time help at this time.

County May Man Garbage Trucks

John W. Fickeisen, chief county sanitary inspector, has notified residents of certain areas in Millbrae, Lomita Park and San Bruno, that they would be requested to place their garbage containers on street curbs on garbage collection days to aid the understaffed San Bruno Scavenger Co. in saving manpower. The company recently canceled collections in certain areas but restored service at the request of the county.

Fickeisen said if the San Bruno company is unable to continue with reduced manpower, the seven members of the county sanitary inspection department will man the garbage trucks.

Police Seek Escaped Men

Police officers throughout San Mateo County were on the lookout for two inmates of the San Francisco County Jail near San Bruno who escaped Sunday from the jail by forcing a window of the paint shop.

The men, who were wearing striped jail clothing, are George Blake, serving a year on a morals charge, and Ben Thompson, serving 90 days for vagrancy.

Blake was described as 42 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing 155, with brown hair and eyes. Thompson is 28 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 135, has grey eyes and brown hair.

Sugar Heiress Wins Final Decree

Dorothy Spreckels McCarthy, Hillsborough sugar heiress, has obtained a final divorce decree from Andrew G. McCarthy of San Mateo. The decree, signed by Judge Maxwell McNutt, restored her name to Spreckels.

Atherton Woman Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Mollie H. McIntosh of Atherton today had filed a suit in superior court at Redwood City for separate maintenance from George R. McIntosh.

Mrs. McIntosh asks for a restraining order, $750 monthly alimony and $2500 counsel fees. She charges her husband with cruelty, and claims he is making gifts to others, and had threatened to conceal community property.

McIntosh owns property in Riverside, and is sales manager of Woolridge Manufacturing Co., Sunnyvale. His earnings are between $50,000 and $60,000 a year, the complaint states.

10 Mothers Ask Aid Of Council

Action on the formation of a nursery school for children of working women in Redwood City was spurred Monday when 10 mothers from the National Motor Bearing Co. appeared before the city council and appealed for immediate aid.

The plea, made by Mrs. Lois Hardiman, spokesman for the group, brought a promise from councilmen to co-operate in securing a public day nursery and the suggestion from Councilman Evans A. Fletcher that heads of war plants and the county welfare department call a meeting to work out the problem.

"I think it is a problem of the community," Fletcher said, "but at the same time it is a problem of the employers."

Mrs. Hardiman declared there is need for nursery facilities for working mothers, especially since so many men are being taken into the armed services. She said there will be an increase in juvenile delinquency "if we don't do something," pointing out that summer vacation will soon be here and supervision for the children will be needed.

Mayor Floyd D. Granger said the matter has been under consideration for a year and a half and that schools are prepared to start nurseries when they get money.

City Mgr. Robert W. Mead informed the women there is a bill now before the state legislature for public schools to subsidize nursery schools, to be operated with funds made available under terms of the Lanham Act.

Andrew L. Spinas, superintendent of Redwood City public schools, said that the schools here are attempting to obtain money from the federal government for school age and pre-school age children. He said the application had been sent to Los Angeles, where it was approved, and then sent to Washington. He said he did not know what would be done with the application in Washington. Buildings were made ready at Sequoia High School and the nursery program was to have started Mar. 1, had the application been immediately approved.

Spinas heartily indorsed Fletcher's suggestion that industrial heads be called together to study the matter.

Mead volunteered to assist Spinas in securing Lanham funds.

Lincoln Plans Spring Festival

The traditional spring festival for students of Lincoln School is to be held May 28 on the school lawn, Principal Earl Whitaker said today.

The program will include the crowning of the queen, introduction of the queen and her court, and the Maypole dance.

The Redwood City recreation department is co-operating in the arrangements, Whitaker said, and the loud speaker will be available for the program.

R. C. War Council Campaigns for Additional Workers

With serious inroads made on its ranks by recent removals of civilian defense workers from the city, either because of transfer of civilian activities or because of the draft of citizens for military service, the Redwood City War Council today appealed for new volunteers to take posts in several branches of the city defense organization.

A growing fear of an attack by the enemy, expressed recently in military and civilian defense quarters, spurred the council to ask citizens who can undertake civilian defense work to volunteer immediately.

James M. Landis, national CD head, points out in the current issue of a national magazine that the United States is "wide open" to air raids before the end of the year, and any part of the country can be reached by raiders. While coastal defenses have been remarkably improved since Pearl Harbor, he discloses that a giant bomber which recently returned to this country was undetected by the army until it had reached an eastern state.

Civilian defenders are needed here to fill gaps in the ranks of such services as auxiliary firemen, policemen, gas decontamination squads, utility workers, first aiders and others. As soon as volunteers come forward, classes of instruction will be started, both for them and for defense aides who have not completed prescribed CD courses.

Exactly how many new workers are needed will be known after Friday night's incident drill. Signups are wanted at once, however, so that there may be no delay in getting new classes under way, according to Mayor Floyd D. Granger, commander of the war council.

Persons willing to register for civilian defense may do so at the war council office on the first floor of the city hall. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Florence Donnelly, council secretary, at the office (RC 824).

Fox Announces New Openings

Typists and stenographers are also needed at $1752 to $1532 a year.

Five federal housing projects in Sacramento provide accommodation for family groups as well as for single persons. Dormitories for 500 women are being erected. Recreational and dining facilities are part of the program. Nursery schools in Sacramento give mothers a chance to work while they leave their children in the care of well-trained child experts.

Ways with Fresh Produce

Fresh vegetables and plenty of them keep the nutritional score of your menus high. Vitamins and minerals are really important to the diet now. And fresh vegetables are rich storehouses of these food essentials.

To conserve and profit by these necessary food elements, serve vegetables uncooked in salads or cook them quickly. Vary them too, for appetite interest. Even the seemingly unglamorous vegetables can be turned into dishes of delight.

. . . Beets in Deviled Sauce—Make a thickened sauce using 2 tbsps. shortening, 2 tbsps. flour, ¾ cup beet liquid, and salt and pepper to taste. When sauce is slightly thickened, add 1 tbsp. sugar and ¼ cup vinegar and bring to boil. Pour over hot, sliced beets.

. . . Raw Beet Salad—Combine 2 cups coarsely shredded, raw beets and 1 cup chopped peanuts with a bit of lemon juice and salad dressing.

. . . Cabbage Chop Suey—Toss together 3 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup sliced celery and leaves, 1 large, sliced onion, ¾ cup green pepper and salt and pepper to taste. Fry covered in a small amount of shortening 5 to 10 minutes, no longer, stirring occasionally.

. . . Spicy Cabbage Slaw—Grind cabbage and mix with vinegar, salt, pepper and sugar. For variety, add equal parts ground carrots and cauliflower, mix with salad dressing, press into teacup to mold, and unmold on cabbage leaves.

. . . Scalloped Carrots—Scallop sliced carrots alone or with potatoes and/or onions. Top with cheese if you like.

. . . Pioneer-Style Baked Onions—Bake large onions, whole with outer skins and all just as you would potatoes. Serve by breaking open, and seasoning with salt, pepper, and butter.

. . . Parsnip-Apple Casserole—Arrange alternate layers of cooked, mashed parsnips and sweetened applesauce. Sprinkle each layer with a bit of brown sugar, nutmeg and lemon juice. Top with buttered bread crumbs and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes. Serve as a vegetable.

. . . Breaded Turnip or Rutabaga Patties—Boil turnips or rutabagas, mash, season and form into patties. Roll in bread crumbs and fry quickly in hot shortening.

Davis Predicts Adequate Labor

WASHINGTON —Food Admsr. Chester C. Davis reported today the farm labor supply should be "sufficient to produce and harvest a 1943 crop up to the levels of the announced goals."

In a report to Economic Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, Davis said if the potential labor supply is fully used farm production need not suffer this year from lack of labor.

While the farm machinery situation is not entirely satisfactory, Davis reported, steps have been taken to improve it. As for fertilizer, he said 100 per cent of requirements was assured for essential war crops and 75 per cent of normal needs for other crops, including corn and cotton.

The labor, he said, will come from six million farm families, experienced workers deferred by selective service, return to farms of men in unessential industry and soldiers over 38, mobilization of a crop corps of 3½ million persons from men, women and youths in towns and cities, and importation of 50,000 laborers from Mexico, 10,000 from Jamaica, and more thousands from the Bahamas.

Except in a few areas of highly seasonal fruit and vegetable production, the food administrator said, it is believed most of the additional labor needed will be found locally through local efforts.

He reported that the War Production Board had agreed to an increase in farm machinery production from 23 to 40 per cent of the 1940 level and repair parts production had been boosted to 160 per cent of the 1940-41 average. With few exceptions, Davis asserted, this will meet the needs for repair parts.

The WPB, trying to locate the necessary steel, is following up, Davis said, the food administration's request for authorization of 9530 additional combines, 4460 corn pickers and 2000 pick-up balers for delivery in time to help with the fall harvest.

Mother's Place in War---'Industry Must Have Women Workers'

(Editor's Note: Here is the third of a series of articles on Mother's Place in the War.)

BY MARION BELL

Do mothers have to work in war industries or are pay checks too tempting for them to stay home with their children?

Yesterday we asked this question of Neal Van Sooy, personnel manager of the National Motor Bearing Co. His answer was a statement from the War Manpower Commission received last month from Washington.

It said, "One hundred twenty five thousand workers are needed in Bay Area war industries." On top of this WMC estimate, 250,000 men will be called up by the draft this year from the Bay Area, Van Sooy stated. Together, that makes 375,000 workers needed during the coming year without counting seasonal needs—the workers needed for harvesting and canning summer food crops.

The WMC lists five sources from which these workers may be obtained, the personnel manager told us. First on the list is women. Next method of finding labor is through arbitrary forcing of people from unessential into essential industries. Next source is from persons over 60 and the partially disabled. There is the method of the 48-hour week by which a slight increase in work may be accomplished. This only applies, of course, where the 40-hour work week is in effect, and most war industries are already on a 48-hour basis. Last method of increasing labor is through importing it, the WMC states, most difficult of all because of the housing shortage.

"There are the facts," the personnel manager said. "That is the answer to the people who say, 'why don't these mothers stay at home?' Supposing you talk to one of them—"

So we went back into one of the shops where overall-clad women stand all day at deafening machines. Bright-eyed Lois Hardiman left her place long enough to come into a corridor where we could hear ourselves talk. Mrs. Hardiman has a seven-year-old daughter at home alone—a husband in the army—"I can't stay home," she said, "most of the women here can't."

It was Mrs. Hardiman who spoke for worker-mothers before the Redwood City Council last Monday night when, appearing with 10 mothers from National Motor Bearing Co., she asked that the city establish a day nursery for the children of working mothers.

During the Easter school holiday Mrs. Hardiman's little girl fell and sprained ligaments in her foot. When Mrs. Hardiman got home after her 4 o'clock shift had ended, she found her child lying on the floor crying. The youngster had been lying there for several hours. Another time, Mrs. Hardiman said, she had to leave the little seven-year-old home alone in bed all day each day for a week when the child was too ill with a cold to go to school. During that time the war worker checked with the sick child by telephone during her lunch hour.

"You can't raise children by telephone," she said.

Yet one child at home alone is often better off than several together, Mrs. Hardiman pointed out. Three girls, 10, 11 and 12 years old, at home without adult supervision after school, grew experimental one afternoon and smoked an entire package of cigarettes between them.

"You can imagine how that mother felt," Mrs. Hardiman said. "We don't want our children to go wild. We want them tto have some kind of discipline. Our children are a young democracy — that's what we are fighting to preserve."

Civilian Defense Utilities Need Volunteers in Two Branches

In its current campaign for more civilian defense workers, the Redwood City War Council announced today that the utilities department, headed by Lisle Winter, needs men in the two branches of his department.

Men experienced in plumbing and pipe fitting are needed in his utilities branch to be subject to call should water mains or sewers break during an air raid.

Able-bodied men in good health are needed for the gas decontamination squad.

Winter explained that in the gas work, the men would don gas masks and protective clothing, both of which are furnished by the government, and clean up accumulations of gas after a gas attack by the enemy.

He pointed out that with military leaders of several allied countries having expressed fear recently that Japan and Germany will eventually use gas, it was highly desirous that Redwood City be fully prepared to cope with any emergency.

Although many people seem to think that a small city like Redwood City is in no danger of being bombed, it was pointed out by Louis B. Dematteis, a member of the war council and public relations chairman for it, that there are vital war plants in the city, and that in addition Redwood City is midway between two other vital war-production centers — South San Francisco and Sunnyvale. He continued that since this city itself might be a target, or that enemy bombers might jettison their bombs over such a city as this if unable to reach a larger or more important military objective, Redwood City should be fully prepared for any emergency.

Winter said that men in his department would need to take a short civilian defense course, which will be arranged as soon as he has secured volunteers. In addition, they will need to learn how to put on a gas mask and protective clothing quickly and how to handle materials with which the decontamination squad works.

Further information may be secured from him in the city hall (RC 1500) or from the war council office, also in the city hall (RC 824). Registration for the work may be made in the war council office.

City Signs New Scavenger Service Contract

Although several garbage companies in San Mateo County have curtailed their services because of a manpower shortage, Redwood City residents were virtually assured of continued service by a new contract made by the city with the San Mateo County Scavenger Co. which calls for an increase in receipts for the garbage collection firm.

Under terms of the contract, adopted by resolution Monday by the city council, the scavenger company will receive 87½ per cent of the receipts from garbage collection and the city will receive 12½ per cent. Under the old contract, the garbage firm received 80 per cent and the city 20 per cent. The contract is for five years, or until such time as conditions warrant a change.

The change was made because of the increased cost of wages and supplies, it was pointed out.

Members of the Sequoia Yacht Club may stay on their yachts the night before week ends and preceding holidays, the city council voted this week, subject to approval of the recreation commission. At the previous meeting of the council, it was recommended to the recreation commission that hours at the yacht harbor be relaxed to allow yachtsmen to be on their boats later than the 7 p.m. closing time. The matter was put on the agenda for the next council meeting, pending receipt of an answer from the recreation commission.

Because of recent alleged irregularities at the Top Hat on El Camino Real, the councilmen voted to have the owner appear before the city council to show cause why his license should not be revoked. The vote followed a suggestion by Mayor Floyd D. Granger.

W. O. Tyson, Redwood City contractor, protested use of base materials from an out-of-town firm on commuter parking lots off Winklebleck St. City Mgr. Robert W. Mead said the city did not buy the materials—that the Southern Pacific Co. bought materials for the parking lot south of Winklebleck St. and that Standard Oil Co. purchased materials for the lot on the north side.

The council approved a recommendation from the recreation commission that $50 be taken from the special recreation fund to repair the pistol firing range on Bayshore Hwy.

A request from Joseph J. Dematteis for a permit for the Italian-Catholic Federation to hold a dance at Foresters' Hall May 8 was granted, as was a request from George L. Solari for Court Madrone 158, Foresters of America, to hold a dance at Foresters' Hall May 15.

Albert Wong was granted a permit to raise chickens on Valota Rd. for commercial use, subject to a meeting of Emil Stein of the health department with City Mgr. Mead.

R. C. Kremeneck was also granted a permit to raise chickens for commercial use at 1623 Gordon St.

Mead reported that railroad crossings on Brewster Ave. and Cedar St. have been repaired and that the Southern Pacific Co. has promised to repair other crossings.

EVEN IF THERE WERE NO WAR War Bonds Would Be Good for You

by don herold

FORGET the war (if you can) Forget the fighters (if you can). Forget that THEY give their lives (if you can).

Think only of yourself (if you can).

Buy U. S. War Bonds not because they help the war, but because they're a grand buy for you, (if it takes this kind of talk to win you).

Everybody else is selling these bonds on a patriotic basis.

Let me point out the swell selfish angles of these bonds for you. Forget the patriotic slants if you can.

Where else these days, can you soak away $18.75 and be dead sure of getting back $25 in ten years?

There's not much patriotism in that sort of sacrificin', is there?

Where else can you invest money and be dead sure of getting 2.9% interest?

And where else can you get a ready-made savings plan as neat as this handed to you on a platter?

It has been my experience that most of us could PAY somebody 2.9% for helping us save money.

All merchandise that we buy has only second-hand value the next day But U. S. War Bonds are worth MORE soon after you buy 'em.

Inflation is your personal enemy. Spent money is soon respent and is bid against you in the community auction-sale we call inflation. But war bond money goes to Germany and Japan in the form of bullets.

If you're already investing 10 percent of your income in war bonds, 'tain't enough. From a purely selfish standpoint, 'tain't enough.

Obligate yourself up to your ears to buy war bonds until you have to scrimp and skimp and scratch to pay for them.

Just forget patriotic angle (if you can). I'm talking to your strictly selfish self. I don't believe you are THAT selfish, but, if you are, there's nothing better for your own good than war bonds.

THEY give their LIVES . . . . . you———?

J-M WAR PRODUCTION PACE EARNS TRIBUTE

CELEBRATION of an Army-Navy 'E' award brought significant recognition of the war contribution being made by J-M workers at Manville, N. J., Mar. 24.

"You men and women of the Johns-Manville factory have a wider and more diversified participation in the war effort than any other group of people in the United States," said Major General Thomas M. Robins as he unfurled the 'E' flag and presented it in the name of the War and Navy Departments.

Addressing the cheering workers at Manville, President Lewis H. Brown, voiced a pledge for the future. "Up to now," he said," we have made new records of production with each passing month. It must be our pledge to continue to do so until victory is ours. When peace comes, Johns-Manville will turn to the huge task then to be accomplished. I assure you that this company will be ready."

He referred not only to the Manville factory but to 16 other J-M plants and mines throughout the United States and Canada where all activity continues to be centered on war production.
